Western Plan Is Approved Unanimously

Effective Separation Of Warring Israelis, Egyptians Favored

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—The U. N. Security Council adopted unanimously today a Western Power resolution favoring the effective separation of warring Egyptian and Israeli forces on the Gaza frontier. Barbed wire or some other barrier has been suggested.

The Council also agreed with a proposal by Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N. truce supervisor in Palestine, to establish a demilitarized zone more than a half mile wide along the frontier.

Arkady A. Sobolev, Soviet delegate, voted with the other Council members.

Discussions To Resume

Omar Loutfi, Egypt, and Abba Eban, Israel, told the Council their governments agreed on resuming discussions with Burns on measures to prevent further clashes. Loutfi further said Egypt long ago favored putting up barbed wire. Eban was silent on the nature of the barrier.

More than 50 soldiers and civilians have been killed on both sides of the Gaza line since a new burst of violence Aug. 22 halted efforts by Burns to achieve some calm and order.

The Council met in special session on the call of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., United States, Sir Piercy Dixon, Britain and Herve Albrand, the new French delegate. The delegates had a report from Burns on the incidents.

Cooperation Expected

In rapid succession, the Western delegates made it clear they expected Israel and Egypt to cooperate with Burns. They demanded maintenance of a cease-fire wrenched by Burns after an Israeli raid on Khan Yunis Aug. 31 capped the border troubles. They urged the Council to approve the resolution giving endorsement to Burns' efforts. Noting Burns' report that Israelis detained U.N. observers before the Khan Yunis raid, they called for full freedom of movement by U.N. personnel.

Police Fire Kills Five Moroccans

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Sept. 8 (AP)—Police said five Moroccans were killed and about 15 injured today in the worst outbreak of nationalist violence in recent weeks.

Six Europeans, including a nurse, were among the injured. The trouble started in the new Arab quarter when, according to the police report, a Moroccan threw a grenade at a small police truck. The five Moroccans were killed by police fire.

More trouble is expected next week when nationalists want to pull a general strike on behalf of exiled Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, now negotiating with the French in Madagascar. He is said to be demanding that he be returned to France before he approves a new regime for his country.

The French government has set Sept. 12 as a deadline for some definite action, but it seems doubtful the deadline can be met.

L. A. Heat Siege Broken

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8 (AP)—An unprecedented siege of 100-plus temperatures appeared broken in Los Angeles today and an unexpected breeze kept smog from getting as bad as anticipated.

This was expected to be the first day in nine that the temperature failed to reach 100 degrees.

Ecuador Fears Peru "Invasion"; OAS Defers Move

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Council of the Organization of American States voted 19-0 tonight against intervening in the boiling border dispute between Ecuador and Peru until it has more information on the situation.

Ecuador, claiming it faces "imminent invasion," appealed for OAS intervention earlier in the day. Ecuadorian Ambassador Jose R. Chiriboga made the appeal.

The Council decided to await a report from a four-nation committee which is already investigating the situation. The committee represents the four nations guaranteeing a 1942 border settlement—the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

Earlier, in a dramatic speech to the Council—meeting then on another matter—Chiriboga declared "thousands" of well-armed Peruvians are on the Ecuadorian frontier and Peruvian naval vessels are near the Ecuadorian coastline.

NATO Endorses Turkish Action To Halt Rioting

PARIS, Sept. 8 (AP)—Members of the Atlantic Alliance including Greece today agreed that vigorous action by the Turkish government has restored law and order to Istanbul and Izmir, scene of anti-Greek rioting.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council accepted the assurances of Turkey's permanent NATO representative, Mehmet Ali Tiney, that his government is taking all necessary measures to avoid a recurrence of violence.

The 15-member Council had been convened by Lord Ismay, NATO secretary general, to hear reports from both Greece and Turkey on a situation which threatened to mar the efficiency of NATO's Southeast Europe Command, based at Izmir. Stories from the scene said that Turkish mobs stoned the homes of Greek officers serving at Izmir.

Rioting which injured 300 and caused 35 millions of dollars in property damage erupted in Istanbul and Izmir Tuesday night with the news that Greeks had dynamited a Turkish consulate at Salonika. For four hours mobs raged through the streets, smashing Greek-owned shops and houses. The Turkish government called out troops and clamped down martial law.

NATO was involved in the incidents at Izmir, headquarters for the 6th Allied Tactical Air Force, headquarters for Southeast Europe and headquarters for Southeast Europe land forces. The Alliance would also be indirectly concerned in any development which tended to split member nations although there is nothing in the NATO treaty to take care of disputes among the members.

From Athens came reports that Greece would refuse to participate in NATO maneuvers scheduled for later this month on the ground that Greek soldiers could not associate with Turkish troops. NATO headquarters in Paris, and Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe said they had had no word on this.

Hotel Sues Lanza

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8 (AP)—Singer Mario Lanza was sued for $124,970.56 today for his failure to appear in a show at the opening of the New Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., last April.

Story Of Convict Who Kept Silent 18 Years Disclosed

MCALISTER, Okla., Sept. 8 (AP)—The incredible story of the Oklahoma State Penitentiary's "silent man"—a prisoner who didn't talk for the first 18 years he was behind the walls—was disclosed today.

It was told by reporters of the Tulsa Tribune, which said it agreed three years ago—when the man first broke his vow never to speak again—to keep the secret.

That was because officials cautioned that the convict, John A. Cane, was known throughout the prison as "The Dummy," an inmate who couldn't talk or hear. Officials feared for his life if the secret got out.

Former Warden Jerome Waters at a state Pardon and Parole Board hearing in June 1952, attended by Tribune reporter Roger Devlin, disclosed the story.

POW School Officials Deny Men Tortured

Base Commander Declares Trainees Are Not Degraded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Air Force officers said today their school to teach men to survive as prisoners of war always stops short of degradation or torture.

It is rugged, they conceded, and includes such things as requiring the volunteer trainees to live off barren land for days without any supplies.

The description of the school at Stead Air Force Base in Nevada was supplied by Col. Burton E. McKenzie, commander of the base. Maj. John Oliphant, director of training at the school, and Col. Maurice J. Casey, deputy director of information for the Air Force, Students Not Degraded

"We never take a man and see how much he can stand," they said. "We do not degrade students. We try to teach them by demonstration what to expect and how to conduct themselves.

"We feel our greatest accomplishment is to remove this pattern of fear, so that a man can fly over any country, confident that he can get back."

The officers talked to reporters in a followup of reaction to a Newsweek magazine article that told starkly of men undergoing Communist-type brainwashing treatment, in preparation against what might happen to them if they became prisoners.

Water Torture Reported
Newsweek said trainees at the Nevada school had to spend hours in a hole with water up to their shoulders, were given frightening electric shocks and were verbally slapped with the roughest sort of interrogation.

The other military services also have their escape and evasion courses, which include such things as having men march barefoot or blindfolded, and questioning them for long periods with no sleep and little rest or water.

Col. McKenzie was called to Washington following the article's appearance.

AWOL Since '35, Tries To Enlist

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8 (AP)—A man who said he went absent without leave from the Army 20 years ago was in jail today after he tried to re-enlist.

Leroy Van Camp, 43, living near Blue Springs, Mo., said his conscience had been bothering him, and besides, "I just decided to go back in because they need good mechanics."

During his application for enlistment yesterday he casually mentioned that he had been AWOL since 1935. He said he was serving with an infantry unit at Ft. Douglas, Utah, in 1935.

"The pay was small, only $21 a month," he said. "I applied for a dependency discharge because I had a wife and two children. The Army turned me down so I just walked away."

His son, George S. Van Camp, 24, is a Korean veteran and still is in the Army.

"My boy doesn't know about this," he said. "All he knows is that I've been a good father to him."

A DC-3 airliner lies smashed against a hangar (background) after crashing into the C-54 Military Air Transport Services plane at left while attempting an emergency landing at Lockheed Air Terminal, Burbank, Calif., yesterday. ## California Fire Menace Eased After Two Die

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8 (AP)—California's costly epidemic of forest and brush fires was largely brought under control today after causing two deaths, injuring 11 men and burning over 200 square miles. The fires caused damage estimated at more than 12 million dollars.

Towns and cities that had been threatened by the series of destructive fires in California were reported out of danger.

Flames still raged out of control along nearly 25 miles of the 70-mile perimeter of a multimillion-dollar brush fire in Santa Barbara County. But "the situation looks better," said Supervisor Robert Jones of the Los Padres National Forest.

10 Fighters Burned

Backfires, he said, removed the threat to Gaviota and Las Cruces, and a favorable wind apparently relieved danger to Santa Barbara, a city of 50,000 filled with vacationists and tourists.

Ten volunteer fire fighters were caught in a sudden lashout of this fire on the Southern California coast Wednesday night and painfully burned.

The killer fires were in Oregon. The body of Wesley Weston, 40, was recovered today when control was re-established over the fire that trapped him near Rond Butte in south-central Oregon. Another Oregon fire fighter was burned to death Sunday.

Men Flown In By 'Copter

A Hopi Indian specialist from Arizona was seriously injured by falling rock in the Sequoia National Forest fire which was brought 95 per cent under control in east-central California.

Men were ferried in by helicopter to close the line in the Samspon Creek area of the 15,000-acre fire. Backfires removed the last threat to Yreka, just south of the Oregon border in Northern California. The backfire was used to get rid of potential fuel between the city and the huge "haystack fire" that had come within four miles of the city of 3,500.

Princess Marriage Speculation Revived

BALMORAL, Scotland, Sept. 8 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth called Britain's attorney general into a Privy Council meeting at her Scottish holiday castle today. The meeting appeared certain to rouse speculation that Princess Margaret's marriage plans may be announced soon.

An informant close to the government said, however, that 25-year-old Princess Margaret's future was not scheduled for discussion. He did not elaborate.

A court circular announced the meeting and said the Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen's husband, was present. This gave the meeting pointed family significance.

If, as has been reported, Princess Margaret intends to marry RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 40, a divorced man, complicated legal issues would be involved. That could account for the presence of Atty. Gen. Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller.

Adenauer Receives Big Soviet Welcome

MOSCOW, Sept. 8 (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived here today for momentous talks with Soviet leaders. He told them at the airport that "welfare and security in Europe and in the world largely depend on the normalization of relations between us."

That is the subject the Kremlin invited Adenauer here to discuss. It later agreed, at his insistence, to add reunification of Germany and release of German war prisoners to the agenda—but agreement on uniting Germany is not expected and Adenauer made no mention of it in his reply to the welcome of Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The 79-year-old leader of the Bonn government—repeatedly denounced and castigated in the Soviet Union in the past—today was welcomed to its capital with a great show of cordiality.

Assembled to greet him at the airport, decorated with dozens of German and Soviet flags, were Soviet officials, lacking only Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. Ambassadors from East and West and a crowd of Russian sightseers also were on hand.

Bulganin, flanked by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Deputy Premier Mikhail Pervukhin, led the welcome. Protocol would have required only Molotov to be present for the welcome. The ambassadors, including Charles E. Bohlen of the United States, crowded about them on the airstrip.

Thanking Bulganin for the welcome to him and his delegation, Adenauer said:

"I greatly hope that this first contact which we establish by our presence in Moscow will initiate creation of normal good relations between Germany and the Soviet Union. I am firmly convinced that the peoples of the Soviet Union and the German people can derive great advantage from peaceful cooperation and that the preservation and consolidation of welfare and security in Europe and the world largely depend on the normalization of relations between us."

"We want to put our work and talks here in Moscow entirely at the service of peace."

Army Says Red Charge Against Teacher Error

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker said today a "mistake" was made in an accusation by the Army that Dr. Alfred Y. Kelly of Wayne University had been a contributor to an alleged Communist front. He said he had ordered that the allegation be erased from army records.

Kelly, head of the history department at the Detroit school, denied to Senate investigators last month that he was a supporter of the American Youth for Democracy organization or that he was or ever had been a Communist.

Kelly told a Senate Civil Service subcommittee that instead of supporting the organization he had aided in driving it from the Wayne campus. Dr. Arthur Neef, Wayne law school dean, backed him up.

The matter of Kelly's activities was an offshoot in a hearing on the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Waxter of Detroit to clear their names of security risk charges. Waxter had been denied an honorable discharge from the Army on grounds he had associated with known Communists or sympathizers and his wife had lost a civilian job with the Army on an allegation of association with a member of the Progressive party of Michigan, which the Army said was Red dominated. Both denied the charges.

One item in the service's bill of particulars against Waxter was that he had given Kelly as a character reference. The document said Kelly was a contributor to and supporter of the American Youth for Democracy group.

R. A. Froehlinger Dies

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—Richard A. Froehlinger, president of the Arundel Corp. and active in the construction industry here since 1911, died today at Mercy Hospital at the age of 68.

Five Argentine Army Officers Accused In Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 8 (AP)—Five high-ranking Argentine army officers of the Rio Cuarto base, including a general, were accused today of conspiring to rebel.

A notice publisher by the newspaper Epoca announced the five were ordered to present themselves within three days to testify in a "case against them for conspiracy to rebel."

They are ordered to appear, the notice said, "under penalty of being declared rebels."

Rumors Confirmed

The notice was signed by Maj. Gen. Jose Sosa Molina. He is a brother of Gen. Humberto Sosa Molina, President Juan D. Peron's national defense secretary.

It was announced just today that Jose Sosa Molina has been appointed commander of the 2nd Army Division, which includes the Rio Cuarto base.

The notice apparently confirmed rumors in the last few days of unrest in the garrison of that city, a manufacturing and livestock center of 50,000 in Cordoba Province, 350 miles west of Buenos Aires. The division is strategically located in the heart of north-central Argentina.

Army Crushed Navy Revolt

The disclosure that some army officers are accused of plotting rebellion came less than three months after army troops crushed the June 16 uprising of navy and air personnel against Peron. The President gave the army full credit for suppressing that rebellion, in which hundreds of persons were killed.

The notice identified the five officers as Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Felix Videla Balaguer, Col. Juan Bautista Picca, Lt. Col. Raul Adolfo Pablo Picasso, Lt. Col. Carlos Alberto Maria Carabba, and Maj. Jorge Manuel Fernandez Funez.

Will Visit Russia

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Tage Erlander said today he has accepted an invitation to visit the Soviet Union early next year.

Toughness Of Job Won't Sway Ike, Nixon Declares

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today that people who feel President Eisenhower might not want to run again have "mistakenly emphasized what they claim is his desire to get out of a tough job and relax on a farm."

Addressing Republican state chairmen here to attend a campaign school, Nixon repeated that those close to the President are optimistic that he will run. He said they believe he will make that decision on the basis of the foreign and domestic situation and "how he feels at the time."

"When you see the President on Saturday," Nixon said, "you will agree with me that he never looked better or sharper than he is today." The state leaders will fly to Denver Friday night to have breakfast with Eisenhower Saturday morning.

Taft-Hartley May Be Used To End Tieup

Contempt Citation To Be Sought Today As Walkout Spreads

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Taft-Hartley law reportedly was being studied today as a possible means of ending a spreading and crippling East Coast dock strike.

The International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) called 25,000 dockers off the New York waterfront yesterday in a bitter war to the death with a bistate dock policing commission. The strike was spreading from Massachusetts to Maryland.

A State Supreme Court restraining order to halt the strike was obtained yesterday by the 170-member New York Shipping Assn., caught in the middle of the quarrel between the ILA and the Waterfront Commission.

However, it failed to even dent the strike.

Contempt Action Planned

The association said it will seek a contempt citation in State Supreme Court tomorrow as a result of the ILA defiance of the court order. Once cited for contempt, the union could be heavily fined.

Shapcup whistles sounded in vain along the 350-mile New York waterfront at the beginning of the normal working day. Longshoremen huddled in silence outside the piers, in a day made sparkling bright by a summer sun but tempered delightfully by an autumn tang in the air.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said in Washington the federal government had no present intention of intervening in the million-dollar-a-day tieup.

"We have no request from anyone to do so," he added. Other government officials reportedly were giving preliminary study to the possibility of invoking the Taft-Hartley law to end the strike should the administration decide on such a step.

Ike Used T-H In 1953

In 1953, in his first use of Taft-Hartley after he entered the White House, President Eisenhower invoked it against the same union, the ILA, to end a five-day East Coast dock strike.

The law permits the President to seek an 80-day court injunction against continuing the strike.

The ILA claims the two-member New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission used harsh and discriminatory practices against union members—misusing subpoena powers, exceeding authority, harassing longshoremen and their families at home, and cracking down with undue severity on men who have atoned for past criminal records.

ILA President William V. Bradley charged today that the commission and the New York Shipping Assn. have a deal on "to break up our union and any union on the waterfront."

Airliner Crash Fatal To Three

BURBANK, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—A pilot saved the lives of his 30 passengers but lost his own as he crash-landed a crippled airliner at Lockheed Air Terminal today.

The copilot and a technician working on a parked Air Force plane also were killed. The airliner, a two-engine DC-3, with the starboard engine conked out, smashed through power lines, a fence, a parked Air Force C-54 and a hangar. It missed by only a few yards President Eisenhower's Lockheed built Super Constellation "Columbine," which was being serviced.

Twenty-eight passengers were injured, as were two technicians who were run down by the plane on the ground. But no one was seriously hurt and only 18 persons remained in the hospital late today.

Observers credited pilot Joseph Amos Bradsher, 31, of Chula Vista, Calif., with stretching out the glide of the airliner and maneuvering it to prevent greater damage to many big planes parked in the crash area.

The nose of the DC-3, which housed the pilot and copilot Keith Dutson, 25, of Santa Monica, Calif., was broken off. The other crew member, stewardess Ann Jorgensen, 18, of Los Angeles, suffered head injuries.

Technician Willie Malone, 47, of Los Angeles, was working on a wing tank of an Air Force C-54 when the airliner crumpled the wing, killing him.

Military Orders Istanbul Curbs

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 8 (AP)—The military commander of Istanbul today clamped tight controls on the riot-ravaged city. These included a 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew and a ban on all gatherings, even in private homes.

Similar measures were decreed by the military commands in Ankara, Turkish capital, and the seaport of Izmir, NATO's Southeast Europe headquarters.

The Turkish Cabinet declared martial law in the three cities yesterday after an emergency meeting in Istanbul, scene of vast devastation in wild, anti-Greek rioting Tuesday night.

The first formal restrictions imposed under martial law were announced over the radio in all three cities. Special editions of the newspapers carried them.

The orders prohibit any gatherings, public or private, except in schools, factories and churches. They especially warned that attendance in church will be solely for the purpose of worship and that "any propaganda incitement or demonstrations" in churches would not be tolerated.

Movie houses, theaters, restaurants, night clubs and other such public places must close at 11 p.m. and all persons are ordered off the streets from that hour until curfews end at 5 a.m. Travelers leaving by air, train or ship are exempt.

The military ordered residents of the three cities to remove all signs liable to incite the population, and to take down all flags.

Ever since mobs began to march through Istanbul and Izmir Tuesday night, wrecking Greek-owned stores and homes, thousands of red crescent and star flags of

Greek, Turkish Restraint Urged By United States

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The United States is quietly urging both Greece and Turkey to exercise great caution and restraint in dealing with the explosive Cyprus issue.

The argument advanced by American officials in contact with leaders of the two countries, informants said tonight, is that public excitement and outbursts of violence can only play into the hands of the Communists, giving them an opening to make trouble between Allies in the strategic Middle East.

State Department officials were described as pleased with measures taken by the Turkish government to prevent a recurrence of rioting in Istanbul and Izmir where heavy damage was suffered by Greek citizens or Turkish citizens of Greek descent. Similarly these officials expressed satisfaction at measures taken by the Greek government to prevent any vengeful demonstrations in Greek cities following the riotous outbreaks earlier this week in Turkey.

The Turkish Embassy said in a statement tonight that order had been restored in Turkey and that conditions were secure in Istanbul, Izmir and Ankara.

Washington was caught by surprise with the riots in Istanbul and Izmir. Privately, officials were inclined to think that popular passions had been inflamed over a period of weeks by various denunciations of Greek claims on the island of Cyprus so that it was a simple matter for demonstrations, which started peacefully, to boil over into destructive mob action.

Health Service Says Peak Of Polio Past

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Public Health Service said today the worst appears to be over in the matter of polio cases for this year.

It said 2,033 new cases were reported in the week ended Sept. 3, a drop of 256 from the previous week, and commented:

"This would appear to indicate that the peak of incidence for the country as a whole was reached in the week ended Aug. 27."

There were no reports from Nebraska and Montana for last week. Among persons who have received the Salk polio vaccine, 446 of them paralytic. More than 6½ million have been given the vaccine. The Health Service said it was still too early to say just how effective the vaccine has been. It has said it will be fall at the earliest before conclusions can be drawn.

Nature's greatest engineer is the beaver. In the building of dams and canals and the control of water, his skill and ingenuity are exceeded by man only in degree, not in kind.

Man Allegedly Phones Threats To White House

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Secret Service said today it is questioning a Baltimore man who allegedly called the White House in Washington by telephone and made threatening remarks.

Joseph Jordan, special agent in charge of the Secret Service office here, said there is so far no indication President Eisenhower or anyone at the White House was directly "threatened" in the strict legal sense of the word.

Jordan refused to disclose the man's identity or give any details of the telephone call. He said he might be able to make a full report Friday.

Schools Bar 6 As Non-White

SUMTER, S.C., Sept. 8 (AP)—Despite white birth certificates, the six children of a new Sumter family were barred from white schools today. Some 100 parents of white children at Lemira Elementary School met to pledge organized resistance to racial integration here.

Some of the parents contended the children in question were non-white.

John L. Southwell, superintendent of city schools, said all the Ard children had been told not to return to school until the issue is settled.

"The birth certificates speak for themselves," said Mrs. William Ard when told of the action regarding her children.

Meanwhile, the parents' group at Lemira school decided to meet again Monday night to discuss further resistance against what they called "encroachment on the rights of our children."

The meeting of parents came after two Ard children, Douglas Wallace, 8, and Eddie Arnold, 7, enrolled in the first grade at Lemira school yesterday. They presented birth certificates from nearby Williamsburg County listing them as white.

Mother Ordered Arrested In Probe Of Heiress' Death

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8 (AP)—The mother of food chain heiress Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher was ordered arrested today on charges she knew about and conspired in the illegal abortion that caused her daughter's death.

Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash issued the order for the arrest on two separate charges: accessory before the fact of an abortion causing death, and conspiracy.

But Dash implied that Mrs. Silver, under the care of doctors since her daughter died in a North Philadelphia apartment last Aug. 24, might remain for a while in the seclusion of her suburban Melrose Park home where she is being treated for "bereavement shock."

Rita Wants More Time To Consider Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8 (AP)—Rita Hayworth's New York attorney flew in today and said after a two-hour conference with the actress that she "wants more time to consider" whether she'll seek a divorce or reconcile with Dick Haymes.

The couple split up last month after an argument.

"I think both parties have a lot of problems to iron out," said Bartley Crum. "It is my guess that this may take a while."

Martin Charges Demos Scuttled Road Program

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin today accused Democrats of "scuttling" a big road building program in the past session of Congress but predicted it will be passed next year.

Martin, in a speech prepared for a GOP rally, said the road building was one of the "fine objectives of the Eisenhower program" which had been sidetracked because of Democratic control in Congress.

The President proposed building a vast interstate system of super highways largely through bond financing. The Senate rejected this and passed a bill which also provided for increases in federal funds for secondary roads, but made no provision for financing.

House Democrats proposed tax increases on gasoline and other highway users items to put the road program on a pay-as-you-go basis, but the House defeated both this and the Eisenhower bond plan.

The result was no new road legislation this year. Congress is certain to tackle the issue again next year, however, and Martin predicted the President's program would be approved because he said "those who oppose this program will have heard decisively" from the voters back home during the congressional recess.

FCC Receives Final Briefs In Pay-To-See TV Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The controversy over pay-as-you-see television boiled up again today as proponents and opponents got in their final arguments.

The Federal Communications Commission began receiving final briefs which it will consider before deciding the next step. First of all, the commission must decide whether it has authority to authorize pay-as-you-see-television.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, a vigorous opponent of subscription TV, got in the first brief in the new filing go-around. CBS yesterday urged the commission to dismiss the entire proceeding.

CBS called the claims of pay television proponents that they would present new and better kinds of programs "so vague and general that they should be disregarded." Its brief added:

"The American system of television, whatever its defects, is by universal admission the best in the world. This is why the proponents of pay television after they have polished the glitter on their generalities are reduced to talking about sports events, motion pictures, and dramatic presentations, precisely what the American public is getting at the present time and precisely what is coming to the American people in improved quality and from more diversified sources every day that goes by."

The commission has before it three different proposals for pay television. They are sponsored by Zenith Radio Corp., Skiatron TV, Inc., and International Telemeter Corp.

All three systems involve sending of "scrambled" TV programs

Last Of Bronx Cowherds Will Fight For Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The last of the Bronx cowherds, quite old, quite blind, and quite stubborn, clung to the old homestead today in defiance of civilization's pell-mell inroads.

"They won't rush me out," vowed 78-year-old Peter Fusco. "I will fight. I will keep my cows."

Fusco farms an acre of land in the path of a new private housing project. He lives in a little clapboard house with his wife, Mabel, 74, and his son, John, 42.

Fusco came to this country in 1898—the year the borough of the Bronx came into existence. Before that he was a farmer in his native Italy. Three times he has retreated northward in the Bronx to avoid the encroachments of city civilization.

Now, he says, he's through moving, except on his own terms.

The Health Department hailed him into the Bronx Magistrate's Court. It is against the law to keep cattle within the city limits. Fusco keeps four cows, as well as chickens and goats. He also raises corn, tomatoes, beans, broccoli and fruit.

Magistrate Francis X. O'Brien gave Fusco until Sept. 26 to get rid of his cattle. O'Brien didn't say what he would do if Fusco refused to comply.

But Fusco says he will disobey the court order. He claims real estate interests are behind the prosecution.

A builder wants his property as part of a 480-family housing project. Fusco is holding out for $11,200. The builder offered less.

"Ever since I refused to sell," Fusco complained, "I've been pestered by inspectors. I won't sell at the price they are offering me. I will fight. I will keep my cows. They won't push me out."

"I don't see very well. I feel my way around with a stick. Some times the calf leads me. But we live good and we eat good and they aren't going to push us out."

Whooping Cranes Set For Trip South

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The world's few surviving whooping cranes are about to make their annual 2,500-mile southern flight—with hunters to be encountered along much of the course.

Fearful that scattered shots will wipe out the almost extinct breed, the National Audubon Society today issued a plea to gunners to spare the tall white birds and their brown offspring.

The whooping cranes will be flying this month from the wilds of northern Canada to their winter home—the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austwell, Tex.

In the group will be two sets of young twins, another young one, and some 21 adults.

Their route probably will take them over the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Woman Speeds In Parking Lot

PLAINFIELD, N.J., Sept. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Katie Williams, 40, has received a police summons for speeding in a parking lot.

Police said she drove into a lot off W. 2nd St., hit a mattress, chest, cabinet, sofa and fireplace stacked in the rear of a furniture store and collided with two parked cars, causing total damage of $402.

Mrs. Williams told officers her brakes failed.

Well-Paid Princes

NEW DELHI, Sept. 8 (AP)—Some 300 Indian princes still retain their royal titles and collect more than eight million dollars in privy purses annually from the Indian government. They no longer rule, except as nominal state governors in a few instances.

California To Europe With Single Stop

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The first one-plane intercontinental air service from California through New York to London and Frankfurt will be inaugurated in November by Trans World Airlines, sales vice president E. O. Cocke said today.

Super-G Constellations will fly nonstop from both San Francisco and Los Angeles to New York, and then nonstop to London, Cocke said. Both flights will continue to Frankfurt. Total elapsed time for the 6,000-mile flight from Los Angeles to London will be 21 hours and five minutes. A flight will leave Los Angeles each Sunday and San Francisco each Friday. Westbound service will originate in Frankfurt on Wednesdays and Fridays.

"Miss America" Pictured As Ideal, Not "Reality"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—America as though she represented all American girls. She represents only a particular type, and if there were a thousand girls just like her, there couldn't be any selection.

Korgman added: "When we pick 'Miss America' we are actually picking an ideal, and yet we call her typical because we as Americans, more than any other people, worship the cult of the average. We like to talk in terms of middle men, forgotten men, little-men-on-the-street. We like to deal in stereotypes."

"But 'Miss America' is not average. She just happens to be the average American male's dream girl."

Korgman volunteered the comments about "Miss America" when asked to amplify on a statement to his colleagues that, physically speaking, "there is no such thing as an 'average' individual."

For one thing, he said, from a genetic standpoint, the human species is so made up of hybrids that so-called standards of norms based on a sampling of the population "are not much more than approximations."

Plan For Ending Bendix Walkout Goes To Union

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—Leaders of the International Assn. of Machinists (AFL) prepared today to take to the membership a Bendix Radio proposal to end the week-long strike at six Baltimore area plants.

Some 3,000 workers have been idled by the strike which a union spokesman said after a marathon negotiating session was "still in full effect."

The bargaining meeting began yesterday at 2 p.m. and lasted until 7:10 a.m. today.

The company said it had offered "a number of non-economic proposals" and continued to argue for a three-year contract.

On previous occasions, the firm has offered six cent hourly wage increases now, next year and in 1957.

Bendix also announced it told the union it was willing to "bargain on insurance and pension programs" covered by agreements which do not expire until November and December respectively.

The firm did not elaborate on its "non-economic" proposals. A union statement indicated the company offer included an 8-cent hourly wage boost.

Peter F. Stuart, international representative of the union, said Bendix, "having granted a 21-cent package to eight other plants, now proposes an eight-cent settlement in Baltimore."

He accused the company of "prolonging the strike by its stubborn and unrealistic attitude."

The union has been seeking a contract based on agreements reached "with the UAW-CIO and eight other divisions of Bendix Aviation Corp. on the basic General Motors package, including a supplemental unemployment plan."

Baltimore Launches Drive On Lewd Books

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro's appeal for a voluntary campaign against lewd pictures and literature on the city's newsstands was approved at a City Hall conference yesterday.

City law officers and others present brought out that no widespread police action is planned and that the aim of the drive is to remove from newsstands such literature deemed objectionable or harmful to the morals of Baltimore's youth.

Spokesmen for local distributors said it was difficult to determine what would be regarded as harmful and they would need guidance. Several pointed out that magazine and books received from publishers are handled quickly and there is no time to reach each publication to determine what should be eliminated.

The mayor distributed a list of books and magazines described by the decency committee of the National Organizations for Decent Literature as objectionable for use. The organization was described as a non-sectarian group with headquarters in Chicago.

Maryland Analysis Shows Bedrooms Are Dangerous

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—Maryland's Health Department says bedrooms are the most dangerous rooms in the house.

The finding is a result of a careful analysis of the department's Home Accident Prevention unit of fatal home accidents throughout the state in 1954.

The survey recorded 216 home fatalities.

Falling was the largest single cause of death, accounting for 84 fatalities.

Burns and other injuries associated with fire were second, with 65.

Suffocation ranked third at 32. Firearms were fourth, numbering 11.

The analysis showed getting into or out of bed or a chair is just as hazardous as going up or down stairs. Most falls, for example, came while the victim was standing or walking on the floor or level ground.

Army Major Faces Early Court-Martial

FT. MEADE, Md., Sept. 8 (AP)—A Second Army spokesman said today Maj. John N. Sciolio, former executive officer at Ft. Ritchie, will probably be brought before a court-martial next month on charges of borrowing money from enlisted men.

Charges were served on the 34-year-old Philadelphia major here yesterday.

The uniform code of military justice prohibits an officer from borrowing money from an enlisted man.

Most of the 32 mechanical suffocation cases—not involving fires—were among young children while they slept.

Five of the 32 cases were attributed to infections or birth injuries. One youngster was strangled by the restraining band in its high chair. Another was trapped in a sand cave.

The tabulation showed 20 per cent of the victims were Negroes although they make up only 12 per cent of the population.

Young Runaways Returned To Homes

A youthful Montgomery County couple has been returned to authorities of that county after being arrested Wednesday in Grantsville by Tfc. Blair J. Buckel of the Maryland State Police.

The 17-year-old boy and 13-year-old girl had fled Tuesday from the girl's home in Silver Spring after threatening her mother at gun point, ripping out a telephone and knocking her to the floor, Montgomery County authorities stated.

The youngsters, armed with a .30 caliber rifle, were stopped on Route 40 by Tfc. Buckel, acting on a tip from a garage operator. Buckel said he learned that the garage had repaired a car similar to the one described in a 13-state police lookout for the fleeing teenagers.

The teen-agers said their car ran off the road at 1 a. m. and they thumbed a ride into Pennsylvania where they spent the remainder of the night.

Montgomery County police said the flight was prompted by arguments between the girl and her mother over her association with the youth.

The dispute was climaxed Tuesday afternoon when the mother and daughter returned from visiting friends and found the boy inside their home with the shotgun and rifle.

The struggle began after the youth ripped out the telephone wire when the mother, a nurse, tried to summon aid. Her daughter blocked her way when she tried to escape and the youth then shoved the older woman to the floor, police said, after which the pair fled.

Yellow Perch Numerous At Deep Creek

Deep Creek Lake is "polluted" with yellow perch.

That was the opinion expressed Wednesday afternoon by Harold J. Elser, fisheries biologist at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, after the test made at Hoop Pole Run section of the lake.

Elser headed a large group of scientists, and game and fish officials who conducted the big project. The section where the test was held comprises about 60 acres of the big Garrett County impoundment.

The use of rotenone to suffocate the fish so they could be checked was begun shortly after 6 a. m. By 7:30 a. m. the fish began to die off. The rotenone was sprayed from a number of nozzles on a scow.

By noon it became evident that yellow perch far outnumbered all other species of fish combined. Early in the counting the fish by weight it was found that the perch were running 22 pounds to the acre while all other fish combined amounted to only two pounds per acre.

The bulk of the perch were four to six inches in length. Several fairly big bass were taken from the lake. One weighed five pounds, two ounces and was 19.6 inches long. But the number of bass was small. Suckers and catfish were more numerous than the bass and only a few other species were in the haul.

The second reorganization meeting of the Flintstone High School Alumni Association will be held September 13 in the school auditorium.

A nominating committee will present a slate of officers. It is composed of Mrs. Hazel Oster, Mrs. Hazel Bottenfield and Argyll Wilson.

Plans for reactivating the scholarship fund, dormant for a number of years, are to be discussed. At the first meeting of the group since 1945, it was decided that the constitution of the group is outmoded and should be rewritten.

The Ladies Auxiliary of LaVale Firemen will meet at 8 tonight at the fire hall, with Mrs. Leola Knieriem presiding.

Among the prize possessions are a secretary which has belonged to the family since 1780, an Eli Terry clock of 1829 and three china-head dolls, two of which are from 1862 and the third, 1863, with a trunk and clothes. They had been the dolls of Mrs. Mary C. Gillette, grandmother of Mrs. Piper, and her sister, Miss Sue Gephart.

Similar gooseneck stairways will be seen at both the home of Miss Clauson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Windish. At the former's home, Hazen Road, there also is a 200-year-old black lacquer desk, which when attending Oxford, she brought from Chippingnorton, England, where her Averill ancestors helped incorporate the town in the reign of James I; and a Federal brass chandelier from the home of the late Dr. Samuel Smith. Gunter, Mrs. Fred Sutherland, Mrs. Albert Carlson, and Mrs. George Jeffries, Frostburg. Among the antiques here is an 1810 crystal chandelier. Mrs. F. Wilson Jr., Mrs. William L. Wilson Sr., Mrs. Thomas Stingley, Miss Olive Simpson, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Fred Borden, Mrs. Olive Shirey, Mrs. Egerton Powell and Miss Ann Frances Whiting, Washington.

At "Rose Hill," Avirett Place, visitors will be received by Mr. and Mrs. James Alfred Avirett and their children, and will see the Fairfax chest, and the front door with wide hinges to protect the inhabitants from Indian attack.

Concluding the tour Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum will serve refreshments at her English Manor style home in The Dingle, where among collector items are the brass Spanish chandelier with Jewish religious symbols, and stained glass windows. ## Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You may never learn to roll compliments off your tongue as glibly as you wish you could, but you can pay compliments of another sort that will delight everyone with your winning ways. You can do it every day of your life, without overdoing it at all.

Your way of paying compliments can be with a minute or two of complete attention. When you say, "Hello, how are you?", come to a full stop and take an interest in the answer. Remember where a fellow worker spent his vacation and ask about it, then really listen to his reply. Inquire about someone else's family, not merely as a polite gesture, but because you really want to know, and show that you do.

Special attention should never be forward or an intrusion, but a kindness. You seem to single out one individual from the rest, for only a moment or two if you do not know the person well, and never prompted by too personal curiosity. But that singling out momentarily, if done with taste, leaves a good feeling behind. Anyone is flattered when an attractive person seeks him out even if to ask how he feels about the weather, especially if his opinions are listened to as if they mattered.

It all comes down to the fact that none of us like to be taken for granted, or to have even our small utterances completely ignored. We've gotten used to the "How's everything with you?" type of question to which no more than a perfunctory answer is expected, but even then, we don't like to see the questioner's obvious disinterest. This is your cue. Always pay the compliment of sincere rather than merely polite attention and you're a stand-out. Your interest in others certainly sparks interest in you.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?"—Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure. Complete information on handling lines to best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing $5 (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Tomorrow—Stand tall to look beautiful.

4 Charged With Moving 'Slots' Through City

BALTIMORE — The FBI has announced it has seized 46 slot machines in Southern Maryland and charged four Columbus, O., men with transporting them there illegally from Parkersburg, W. Va., Cumberland and Washington.

The FBI said 40 of the machines were seized in the attic of a farmhouse at Ritchie, owned by town, and Mechanicsville.

The four arrested at Columbus were listed by the FBI as James Vernon Ehman, 35; Kenneth Edward Glenn, 47; Robert J. Willis, 34, and Robert Mace Hathaway, 48.

Warrants issued by George Cochran Doub, U.S. district attorney for Maryland, charged Ehman and Glenn with transporting 64 machines from Parkersburg to Cumberland.

Willis was charged with transporting them from Parkersburg to Ritchie.

Hathaway was charged with taking them from Washington to Ritchie.

The FBI said its investigation indicated some of the machines were sold at Ritchie for $10,000, the others for lesser amounts at Lexington, Leonardtown and Mechanicsville.

The four men under arrest are to be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner at Columbus. The FBI said an effort would be made to have them removed to Baltimore for trial.

Glenn, Willis and Ehman bought the slot machines at Parkersburg, the FBI said, and drove them to Cumberland in a rented truck.

They then went to Washington and contacted Hathaway, who joined Willis in taking the machines to Ritchie, the FBI said.

School Lunch Costs Stable

The prices of lunches in cafeterias of Allegany County public schools will remain the same as they have for the past several years, Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias for the Board of Education announced today.

The cost will be 25 cents a day for senior and junior high school students, and pupils in the upper elementary grades.

Children in the primary departments will be charged 20 cents a day while those who qualify for a reduced rate will be charged 15 cents a day, Mrs. Eaton said.

Allegany County Board of Education is again participating in the federal school milk program.

Mrs. Eaton explained that through this system a child can purchase a half pint of milk for three cents a bottle.

The county will, as in the past several years, receive federal surplus food commodities.

Studies of tree ring growth in the vicinity of Bismarck, N. D., show the approximate dry and wet periods back to about the year 1400.

Stock Market Irregularly Higher 2nd Straight Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—For the second session in a row, the stock market today made irregularly higher progress.

The two-day period of hesitancy followed a vigorous rise Tuesday when the market hit a new record high level, thus ending a reaction-recovery cycle that began last July 25.

Emphasis today was on individual issues rather than on groups, so that pronounced gains were concerned, but the railroads were outstanding on the rise as they have been for the last three days. Brokers and others consider this a bullish indication of basic market strength, although the railroads have not yet gone as far as the industrials in the general market advance.

Up with the railroads today were the steels, utilities, sugars, and aluminum. The motors ended un-

Fund Appeal Planned By Firemen Of LaVale

The annual fund campaign of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company will be held in the area served by that unit the week beginning Monday, September 19, according to Cromwell C. Zembower, president.

The house-to-house canvass, the only solicitation for funds conducted during each year by the firemen, is to raise money for maintenance of equipment and operation of the company.

Zembower, who is also chairman of the drive committee, said the district served by the company will be laid out in zones and captains appointed at Tuesday night's meeting.

The firemen will be assisted during the canvass by members of their boots, slickers and other equipment. This vehicle would carry the individual firefighter's fire company is building a 24-foot by 30-foot addition to the engine house.

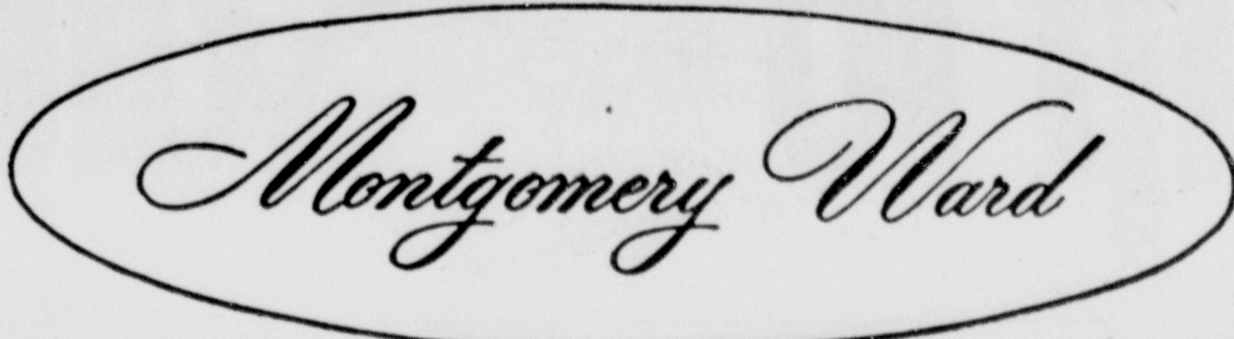

This project is in preparation for the purchase in the future of a utility vehicle. He said many times a fire is at one end of the district and the volunteers find it is inconvenient and time consuming to transport to the fire hall to pick up

The fire company president also reminded LaVale residents that contributions to volunteer fire companies are tax exempt.

Lonaconing Clergyman Wed In North Carolina

LONACONING — Miss Mary Charlotte Hoy, granddaughter of the late former Governor and U. S. Senator Clyde Roark Hoy, and Mrs. Hoy, of North Carolina, became the bride of Jack P. Mansfield, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church, Lonaconing, on September 3 at Central Methodist Church, Shelby, N. C.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. James Huggins, assisted by Rev. Frank Jordan, Charlotte, N. C., before a lighted cross at the altar. A garland of southern smilax was used under the cross with a center arrangement of magnolia leaves surrounded by seven branch candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aycock Hoy, Shelby, N. C. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of antique ivory with a bodice of Belgian lace, featuring a wide neckline and long tight sleeves which ended in points, with the skirt, made of silk-finish tulle, sweeping into a full Cathedral train. Her veil of imported tulle was attached to a coronet of lace embroidered with pearls. She carried a Hogarth curve of white roses and Stephanotis.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Fay Miller Mansfield, 801 Fayette street, Cumberland. A reception honoring the bridal couple was held at Cleveland Springs Country Club. The reception table was centered with an ivory four tier cake sprinkled with talisman roses, which was flanked by heirloom starburst candelabra. Their wedding trip was made to Myrtle Beach, S. C. Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield will reside at University Apartments, Durham, N. C. She is a student in Duke Divinity School. ### Blaze Destroys Area Residence

A family of six persons was made homeless Wednesday about 1 p. m. when fire destroyed their four-room home on the Brice Hollow Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Peterson and their children, ranging in age from two to nine years, were given refuge by neighbors. The blaze is believed to have started in an oil stove which was defective.

Mrs. Peterson first noticed smoke coming from a portion of the stove and picked up her two year old child and fled from the house. Mr. Peterson is reported to be a sawmill worker.

The Salvation Army and Associated Charities have been gathering clothing and furniture for the family. The flames leveled the frame structure quickly. The dwelling was owned by Richard Kerns. The loss was placed at $1,500 for the house, covered by insurance. No estimate of the loss in clothing and furniture of the Peterson family could be obtained.

Whitworth stated Otho Taylor complained of dumping dirt on his property but believed he would be satisfied if a water pipe was laid to prevent water standing on his property.

Taylor was contacted by telephone to hold a conference with authorities at his place at 6:30 p. m. today.

Some of the residents of Halfway house, east of Piedmont wanted to know what the city was going to do about the road leading to the garbage dump. They want broken pipe line renewed under the road. It would take about sixteen feet of 12 inch sewer pipe.

Eugene Keyes, chief of police, submitted the police monthly report and presented a list of items needed for the winter, including two uniforms, two overcoats, two caps, four shirts, two iron claws and a flashlight. The proposal will be acted upon at the next meeting.

A request of the Social Welfare Club to hold a Fashion Show next month in Piedmont Opera House and St. Peter's Parish to hold a minstrel for two nights in November was granted. They will provide light and heat.

Maple Queen Enters Nurses Training School

MEYERSDALE — Herman S. Bashor, general chairman of the Somerset County Maple Festival, this week presented an education fund check to Queen Maple VIII.

Miss Mona Lee Hillegass of RFD 1, Berlin, as she prepared to enter nurses training. She has enrolled at Western Pennsylvania Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh.

To aid the blue-eyed brunette in her chosen field, Bashor presented Miss Hillegass with a check for $100. The money was taken from a scholarship fund established last spring for educational purposes.

It was in the role of a nurse, plus her beauty and outstanding personality that Miss Hillegass captured Pennsylvania's sweetest title last February.

She had tough competition in downing 11 other Somerset County high school beauties. The Shanksville Stonycreek Joint High School lass held more than 2,000 people in uninterrupted attention as she gave her original dramatic reading entitled "There Shall Be No Night There."

Standing in a spotlight on a darkened stage in nurses' uniform and cap, the farm girl spoke softly and naturally as she assured a dying orphan boy of life eternal. By popular request the Maple Queen repeated her talent number numerous times in the several months that followed.

Miss Hillegass retains her title as Pennsylvania's Maple Queen until next spring when Queen Maple IX will be selected from the senior high schools of Somerset County.

Queen Maple VIII enters nursing school with a varied background. She was graduated as an honor student, was vice president of her class editor of the school yearbook, and was a member of the band, chorus and district chorus.

To help provide some of the necessary funds for schooling, Miss Hillegass was employed during the summer months as a waitress at a Howard Johnson restaurant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Somerset. Her chores on her parents' 216-acre farm near Roxbury will now have to be shared by younger sisters Darlene and Gretchen Ann.

However, Mona Lea hopes that she will be able to find a weekend or two to help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Hillegass, during the sugar season in early spring. "I like driving the tractor to haul in the sweet water best of all," declared Miss Hillegass.

While the Maple Queen made numerous appearances since her coronation last March, she is looking forward to the great Pennsylvania State Farm Show in Harrisburg next January.

Hardy County School Survey Shows Interesting Home Data

MOOREFIELD — Some interesting data was compiled from registration forms of 215 six-year-olds who entered the county's public schools for the first time this year, according to County School Superintendent R. S. Dispanet.

The plan was approved subject to approval of property owners affected.

All bicycle riders must secure a permit by October 1. Police Commissioner Ray L. Wilt, warns. They may be secured at the Police Station on Saturdays beginning September 17 from 8 a. m. to 12 noon. For the year closing September 30, about 200 licenses were issued.

Where Armament Inspection Failed

Initial meetings of the five power U.N. sub-committee on disarmament were marked by the same cordial and friendly atmosphere that pervaded the summit meeting at Geneva. But there is not much encouragement to be found in another meeting on a roughly similar subject half way around the world at Panmunjom.

There the United Nations command has thrown up its hands in disgust after two years of experience with an attempt to limit armaments and preparations for war in North and South Korea. The whole neutral inspection setup, it says, ought to be junked because it has proved "unworkable and valueless."

It has been unworkable because the so-called neutrals chosen to represent the Communist side—Poland and Czechoslovakia—have never operated in good faith. They have thwarted and blocked at every turn the efforts of the inspection commission to inspect Communist military installations in North Korea.

According to the Swiss and Swedes, the other neutrals on the commission, they have persistently refused to agree to allow the group to check complaints of truce violations in the Communist north.

What has happened in Korea is a warning that the West cannot look to Communist good faith to make similar systems of inspection work in Russia and the West. No system will be worth trying unless it is set up in such a manner that there will be true and fair inspection that can be depended upon to reveal whether any nation is getting ready to make war.

Significance Of Turkey

There are two ways of looking at all so-called international question: One is to view every question from the standpoint of a particular nation other than the United States; the other is to attempt to view problems from the standpoint of the United States. There are those who try to have what they believe to be a universal position without any regard to any particular country. I do not understand how this is accomplished intellectually or emotionally.

Turkey is a specific American problem as long as the United States continues to pursue the Truman-Acheson "Containment Policy," which the Eisenhower administration has finally settled for after experimenting in other directions. Our object seems to be to contain the Soviet Universal State within its present boundaries and at Geneva, the Russians apparently accepted that program for the present. Turkey and Greece are two anchors of the "Containment Policy." Both are important and if these countries destroyed their alliance with each other and with the United States, it would be harmful to the United States. Both countries are in NATO and are, with Yugoslavia, combined into the Balkan Alliance. They ought to remain that way from the standpoint of the best interests of the United States and the peace of the world.

Unfortunately these relations are disturbed over Cyprus, an island which is predominantly Greek by language and religion but which lies hard-by the shores of Turkey like a cork in a bottle. In the hands of an enemy of Turkey, Cyprus can totally neutralize that country and destroy its economy.

Cyprus is now a British colony and the Turks would prefer to keep it that way. So would the United States. Despite all the agitation to the contrary, it is probable that the wisest men in Greece realize how dangerous it is to disturb the world over Cyprus, but the agitation for uniting Cyprus with Greece has become so potent that no public man in Greece dares to present all the dangers of unnecessary change at this time. Premier Adnan Menderes of Turkey has this to say on the subject:

"To those who, on the strength of their handful of a majority in Cyprus want to create fresh problems for the world, we are compelled to ask 'What was their business on the outskirts of Ankara?' It must be clear to all that a large part of the Turkish coast is surrounded by fortresses belonging to other countries observing and threatening us. Cyprus is at present a safe area, but in this regard, Cyprus is an extension of Anatolia and it forms one of the essential points of its security."

"If a change is therefore contemplated in the status of the island, this change must be based not on ethnic grounds, but on other much more important facts and realities and it must be returned to Turkey. Our delegation which is going to London will defend the maintenance of the status quo as a minimum condition. The maintenance of the status quo is the only way in which all kinds of differences can be solved."

Turkey does not wish to fight over Cyprus or annex it, but there is little question that Turkey will fight if Cyprus is to be transferred from Great Britain to Greece. It would be a pity if two fine peoples, our allies, get into a war and what is more, should such a war occur, the United States could not long be neutral. It would be forced by all the circumstances of our relations with Great Britain to support Turkey in this quarrel. And that would have to happen despite the enormous Greek population in the United States which would protest such action. It would be preferable to keep the status quo until major problems are solved. In his statement, the Turkish Premier said:

"But I wish to make a definite statement to the effect that this country will not tolerate in any way any changes in the status quo of Cyprus, either now or in the future, which would prejudice the interests of our country."

Our problem is peace. Great wars often start from small wars and even smaller events. It is to the interest of the United States to maintain the status quo in the world as long as possible—and that is never too long.

Too Close For Comfort

Truman, For Change, Joins Conservative Side

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that former President Harry Truman, once leader of the Democratic party and perhaps its real leader today, is on the same side of the argument as conservatives like Representative Daniel Reed of New York, ranking Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Senator Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

For Mr. Truman's latest declaration that there should be no tax reduction, even if the budget is balanced next year, is exactly what Mr. Reed said several days before on his return from Europe.

Actually, the secretary of the treasury, George Humphrey, hasn't said positively that the Republican administration would recommend tax reduction but, when he told of the prospective balance in the budget, he mentioned that tax reduction would be "possible." That's a far different thing from saying the administration is yet ready to recommend it.

Implicit Admission of Prosperity

Mr. Truman also said the time to retire the national debt is when the country is prosperous. This is an implicit admission, of course, that under the Republican regime prosperity has actually been achieved, which is somehow in contradiction of the many prophecies of gloom made by the Democrats in Congress all through 1954. In fact, they ignored the Truman philosophy in March 1955 when they tried to put through Congress a plan to cut everybody's taxes by $20 because they said it would increase the purchasing power of the lower income groups.

Now, if the economists who write the speeches for the Democratic leaders are no longer going to insist that the country is suffering a terrible unemployment crisis or is in a "recession," then the obvious tack for them to take is that taxes should not be reduced. This has been the position of the Democrats right along when they were in power.

In the next session of Congress, therefore, the Democrats, logically should be against any tax reduction whatsoever and should be opposing any Republican efforts supposedly to unbalance the budget by tax revision. It will be interesting to see how many Democrats favor tax reduction at the next session. A split in the party is certain.

Senator Byrd will have no difficulty being consistent on this matter because he was the first to speak out when Secretary Humphrey mentioned the possibility of tax reduction. The Virginia senator said:

Not Certain About Both

"I agree with Secretary Humphrey that the budget can be balanced in this fiscal year. I am not so certain, however, that both a tax reduction and a balanced budget can be accomplished. It would be foolhardy to balance the budget and then unbalance it by a premature reduction in taxes."

"I strongly favor tax reduction made possible by retrenchment in spending. I have predicted for some time that the revenue would exceed the Treasury's estimates, but we should not rely upon this revenue coming from the present business boom, as this may fall off. The sound balancing of the budget must come about by reducing expenditures."

It is significant of the spending mood of our times that hardly anybody says anything about accumulating a surplus to pay off the

Do you remember that Welch-Cohn hassel on the Fort Dix spy-rere serial?

Those two Blackstonians were at each other's gizzards like ear, nose and throat specialists.

Fact is Cohn challenged Welch to a duel with oyster forks.

Welch accepted provided it was at different banquets.

Well, believe it or knots, these famous antagonists are working on a civil case in Boston. And they're both on the same side.

There are some things that passeth all understanding. The way of a snake on a rock, the way of an eagle in the air and the way of a lawyer changing the subject.

Cohn did all right with his clients. One was switched to Japan on probation. The other got off with two years in Alaska. All the time Welch was as smooth as the cream that drowned the cat.

X-Ray Therapy For Enlarged Thymus Dwindling

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

A second report on the possible relationship between cancer and X-ray treatment of enlarged thymus in infancy appeared in a recent issue of Radiology. It resulted from an extensive experimental study done by a group of physicians from the University of Rochester (N.Y.) school of medicine and dentistry.

The data were obtained from a follow-up study of 1,400 children who had received X-ray therapy for thymic enlargement between 1926 and 1954. Serving as controls were 1,795 brothers and sisters who had not been treated with X-ray. Siblings were chosen because they had the same environment and heredity.

What happened? In the treated group, 17 had developed malignancies, including seven cases each of leukemia and carcinoma of the thyroid. But five cases of cancer also appeared in the untreated, or control group, an incidence well above that to be expected in the general population.

This report came on the heels of a study I reported several months ago done by Dr. Dwight Clark of the University of Chicago. Thirteen youngsters with carcinoma of the thyroid, all under 15, had been irradiated over the neck or upper chest six or seven years earlier. In the majority, therapy was given for enlarged thymus; in others, for enlarged tonsils or neck glands or bronchial disturbances.

Further analysis revealed that the malignancies occurred only among children who had received 200 to 725 r of radiation. For comparative purposes, less than one-half an r is required for stomach X-ray and much less for a chest film. The Rochester group found the same to be true regarding dosage. All but three of the malignancies were in youngsters who were given over 200 r.

Why is this subject brought up? Many parents still believe that thymus enlargement is a dangerous condition requiring X-ray treatment for cure. They have heard that when this gland in the chest is big it may press upon the windpipe and cause bronchial obstruction or even sudden death.

But during the past five years most authorities have come to agree that the thymus is not responsible for bronchial obstruction or suffocation in children. These mishaps are caused by inflammation of the bronchi which produces thick and tenacious sputum that is difficult to bring up.

Any good effects that followed X-ray treatment for this type of bronchial disturbance may have been coincidental or the rays may have had a beneficial effect on the inflamed tissues. But there is no need to irradiate for this condition, thanks to the antibiotics and bronchodilators.

Because of this changed concept, the number of children who have received X-ray therapy for enlarged thymus is dwindling. This

Dope Smuggler, Nazi Collaborator Nabbed By Federal Men In Texas

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON—A stranger-than-fiction story lies behind the arrest in San Antonio of a mysterious Frenchman who has gone by many names but is under death sentence in France as Antoine d'Agostino.

He is an international dope smuggler, a key figure in the shadowy underworld organization known as the Mafia. During World War II, he worked with the Nazis to undermine French health and morale with narcotics. He was later tried in absentia and sentenced to death for treason.

D'Agostino is wanted in half a dozen other countries from Europe to Canada for narcotics violations. He was picked up by federal agents in this country the moment he landed in San Antonio after hopping across the Mexican border.

The full story of his arrest cannot be told. It can be said however, that the fabulous Frenchman did not come here of his own choosing. Our narcotics agents tipped off Mexican authorities that he was using their country as a base for smuggling dope into the United States and Canada. The Mexicans quietly hustled him on a plane bound for San Antonio.

It is enough to say that the federal narcotics boys knew he was coming. D'Agostino got off the plane waiting about being kidnapped. Meanwhile, a ruthless, but unpublicized international criminal is cooling his heels in the San Antonio clink.

Hatchet Man Axed
Congress almost hired a personnel expert to investigate his own alleged personnel abuses. This convenient arrangement almost went to Henry Domers, who was supposed to direct a special investigation of the Eisenhower administration's personal policies.

Someone discovered, however, that Domers had been the GOP hatchet man at the Federal Power Commission. As such, he had scrambled the PFC's personnel structure to make room for more Republican appointees.

This might make him a hero to Republicans, but the Democrats happen to be running Congress. They claim the Republicans have been kicking out career workers to create vacancies for political appointments. By Democratic standards, Domers was one of the worst offenders.

He had gone so far as to arrange a 90-day leave of absence from the PFC so he could run the personnel investigation for the House Civil Service Committee. But meanwhile, Senate probers had been investigating Domers' own record at PFC.

With Domers likely to be called as a witness in the Senate investigation, he seemed hardly the man to head the House investigation. So the deal was hastily called off.

Forgotten Man

With the cold war thawing, today's forgotten man is the serviceman who is still on guard around the world, often neglected by Congress and the taxpayers.

The Third Marine Division, for example, has just been crammed into barracks that the Army had condemned and abandoned on bleak Okinawa. The Marines live in Quonset huts that leak when it rains and heat up like bake ovens when the sun shines. Some 60 to 80 men are crowded into each hut, living in such sticky closeness that the quarters stink like slave ships.

Housing facilities at some Air Force bases are also so atrocious that pilots have been forced to rent homes as much as two hours away from the fields. This has led Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief, to warn: "We could only get about half the fighter planes in the air during the first two hours after an alert."

Congressional pennypinching can be blamed for most inadequate military housing. In some cases, however, the housing contracts have become snarled in red tape.

For example, the Air Force awarded a contract to construct housing at 23 key air warning stations to the William Rouse Company, Falls Church, Va. Because of minor mistakes in the original bid, the Beacon Construction Company of Boston protested the award.

This has started a chain of protests and appeals all the way to the comptroller general's office. Meanwhile, the personnel at these 23 vital warning posts are living either in miserable housing or else off base. This leaves holes in our warning system through which enemy planes conceivably could fly.

Freedom Ship

To thousands of hunted and herded refugees, the World War II transport General W. M. Black is regarded as sort of a floating Statue of Liberty. It may bring a catch to their throats to learn that the worn, old ship has been retired. Her humanitarian career was ended last month when she was towed into Suisun Bay at the mouth of California's Sacramento River to join the mothball fleet.

The General Black has taken part in every important sea movement of political refugees since 1948. Her passengers have included

White House Drama

By Joseph Alsop

In the secret drama that has been unfolding in the White House for many months, it is pretty clear that what may be called the faction of the anti has sustained a heavy setback.

In other words, President Eisenhower is acting much more like a candidate to succeed himself than he would be called upon to act, if he merely wished to control the Republican convention and to dictate the choice of his own successor. On this head, the goings-on in Denver speak for themselves.

Probably this outcome was always inevitable. The most experienced of all observers of the American political scene, Frank R. Kent, has long held that it was an immutable law of American politics that first-term presidents cannot possibly resist the forces driving them to run again. But in this case, the problem was more interesting than it usually is, because of the character of the faction of the anti.

Wife And Son Opposed

The leader of the anti, of course, has been Mrs. Eisenhower. It has often been rumored that the President's wife disliked the idea of his running again. It can now be stated on undoubted testimony that the rumors under-represented the real situation. Mrs. Eisenhower has not merely disliked the idea of a second term. She has strongly and consistently used her very great influence against it. Furthermore, it can also be revealed that the influence of Mrs. Eisenhower has been powerfully seconded by the influence of Major John Eisenhower, which is also very great.

The combination of a man's wife and only son would be pretty formidable in most families and it is especially formidable in the Eisenhower family. In addition, Mrs. Eisenhower and Major Eisenhower had formidable arguments—that the Presidency was too heavy a burden to be taken on a second time at the President's time of life; that the President had done his duty and could gracefully retire; and that this was the moment for the President to escape to the Gettysburg life he loves.

The President was much affected by the pleas of his wife and son. His response was shown the world, so to speak, at the famous press conference when he publicly repeated their argument that a man of his years should not seek another four years in the United House.

Antis Greatly Outnumbered

But the faction of the anti was tiny, while the faction in favor of an Eisenhower second term was enormous, comprising every member of his staff, every Republican politician of any consequence except Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, and virtually every one of the President's circle of close personal friends. Moreover, the Geneva meeting at the summit proved to be a heavy blow to the faction of the anti.

To the legions who have urged him to run again the President has always had a stock response—that the American political system did not recognize the existence of such a creature as "The indispensable man." But at Geneva, the President seemed to prove the contrary.

However transitory and even dangerously deceptive the other Geneva results may prove, there is no doubt whatever about one result. Single-handed, with no lever but his smile, the President raised the reputation of this country abroad from somewhat very near the depths to somewhere very close to the heights. In a single week, the rest of the world's opinion of America's aims and purposes was radically and happily transformed by Eisenhower alone.

The feat itself quite naturally exhilarated the President, giving him a sense of achievement that he has not always had in the White House. Furthermore, the very fact of this feat, at once gave a heaven-sent argument to those who wanted him to run again. In our domestic politics, they said, it may be that no man is indispensable; but it has now been proved that at this critical juncture, the President is the indispensable man on the world political scene. According to persuasive reports, it was this new argument introduced by Geneva that rather decisively turned the White House debate in favor of a second term.

Many Factors Possible

All sorts of things can of course happen between now and the Republican convention. It is more and more likely, for instance, that the free half of the world will suffer disastrous defeats in the Far East in the next six to eight months. What this may do to the President's post-Geneva glow is anyone's guess.

Again, the President's state of health is obviously magnificent. Yet no man of his years can be absolutely guaranteed against the kind of little upset which would be trivial for most men, but in the situation in the White House would give much greater force to the pleas of the President's wife and son. For these and other obvious reasons, Eisenhower's course cannot be absolutely forecast. But on one point, one may now be quite certain.

The President's power of choice in this matter has been invisibly but rapidly diminished. He no longer has the option of saying that he will not run because he does not choose to. His moral commitment to the Republican party is now too great. He cannot possibly escape running, unless he is willing to shield himself squarely behind an opinion from his doctors that he ought not to do so. That is the only argument which is not sure to be shouted down.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

It comes out that John Foster Dulles has a license to carry a gun. It may be a cold war, but you don't catch the secretary of state off guard.

Secretary Dulles has had his pistol for 38 years. It must be a diplomatic exhibit to prove shooting is obsolete.

You can't blame Dulles for wanting protection. After all, he worked in Washington a long time when it was full of Democrats.

The annual fingerprinting for a gun license doesn't bother the secretary at all. He probably feels a lot better knowing there's a way to keep track of him.

Supper Dishes That Can Be Stretched

The term "supper dish" is somewhat associated in most minds with Sunday night or get together occasions when friends assemble and each family furnishes part of the meal. A "supper dish" as it implies should furnish the main course of the meal, and it is usually liked better if it is simple to prepare and yet colorful and tasty when served.

Basically, a main dish should supply protein and it is this important food nutrient that must be considered when selecting an entrée. However, small amounts of chicken, meat or fish can be extended by use of milk and cheese in the preparation. This combination will give an adequate amount of protein because the protein found in milk and cheese will augment the protein of the other food. It is simple to fix a supper dish for six from meat ingredients, for instance, that would serve only two at the most, if not combined with dairy foods. Here are examples of how delicious, yet nutritious such foods can be. Menus are given with each supper dish.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (INS) — The U.S. Olympic Committee has informed sailing champion Gene Walcott of New Orleans it can't afford to send him to the 1956 games in Australia. A kindly steamship company has offered to transport young Walcott's Dragon class boat down under, and perhaps the youth can in time scrounge enough money to take himself and crew to the scene.

But if he can't make it, we go unrepresented in an event we might have won, and the laurel in all probability will go to the Russians or the Scandinavians, which teams are government-backed.

Isn't it about time we stopped cheapening our Olympic product? We leave home dozens of fine athletes for lack of funds, force those who make the team to live like inmates of a slave labor camp,

The State Department does some great work overseas but it has become so huge an operation that—as the Hoover report indicates—it is flabby and forgetful in spots.

A lot of money goes down the drain on trivia. A very minor fraction of the money the taxpayers spend on the State Department each year could give the nation an Olympic team fit proudly to wear the colors of the greatest nation and stop this embarrassingly niggardly way of providing a so-so team. Won't we look ridiculous when we fail to show our faces in certain events while nations in hock to us for eternity field a team or individual in that sport?

Russia is going all out for this one. Its government-subsidized team has been in vigorous training for a year or two and will be in peak form at Melbourne. We're sending our amateurs against pros. But in further contrast to their team, ours is still bumbling nickels and dimes and the people in charge of it will fight tooth and claw to keep it just that sorry way.

Children Like These Sodas

Hard play and exercise make hungry and thirsty youngsters. During the day they need an energy pick-up, and nothing is more satisfying in summer than a cooling drink and cookies.

Bottles of carbonated beverages, in convenient sizes, are fine refreshers at any time. Orange, grape and black cherry, true-fruit flavored, are favorites with children and, of course, cola, cream soda and pale dry ginger ale are always in demand.

These beverages are all good mixers, and with a supply in the refrigerator along with fresh fruits, milk, cream and ice cream on hand, you are ready to concoct many delicious sodas and floats.

Here are two sodas that will make a hit with children and you'll find that adults will "go" for them, too.

- Chocobery Malted
3 heaping teaspoons sweetened chocolate flavored malted milk
1/4 cup sweetened pureed strawberries
Pale dry ginger ale
In a tall glass, combine malted milk and pureed strawberries with a small amount of ginger ale; mix to a smooth paste. Fill glass with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.
  - Chocola Soda
1 pint chocolate chip or chocolate ice cream
4 tablespoons chocolate syrup
Cola beverage.
Divide ice cream and chocolate syrup among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold cola. Stir gently to mix.

- 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 3 tablespoons prepared horseradish
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Combine chicken, ham, celery, mayonnaise, horseradish and lemon juice.
- Yield: 2 cups or filling for 10 sandwiches.

Tongue—Ideal Dish For Summer Menus

Wise homemakers during summer months will plan their meals around foods that give them more leisure time. This calls for meats that can be cooked, then sliced and served cold in various ways for succeeding meals. The rest of the menu is then quite easily planned. A good choice for this type of meal planning is tongue, says home economist Reba Staggs. A fresh or smoked tongue can be used for several meals. To prepare tongue, cook it in water to cover. Salt should be added to the water when cooking fresh tongue. A beef tongue will take from 3 to 4 hours. When cooked, plunge it in cold water and remove its skin. For your first meal you can serve the tongue hot. Then for later serving, return the tongue to the cooking liquid and cool rapidly. This makes the tongue more juicy. Serve the sliced tongue cold with horseradish sauce or in a barbecue sauce. For one more hot serving, cut the meat into long thin strips and reheat in a cream sauce. Serve over toasted English muffins. A platter of chilled sliced tongue and molded gelatin salads makes an appetizing arrangement. Also, remember tongue for a refreshing main dish salad.

Here is the greatest detergent yet produced by science for automatic washing machines!

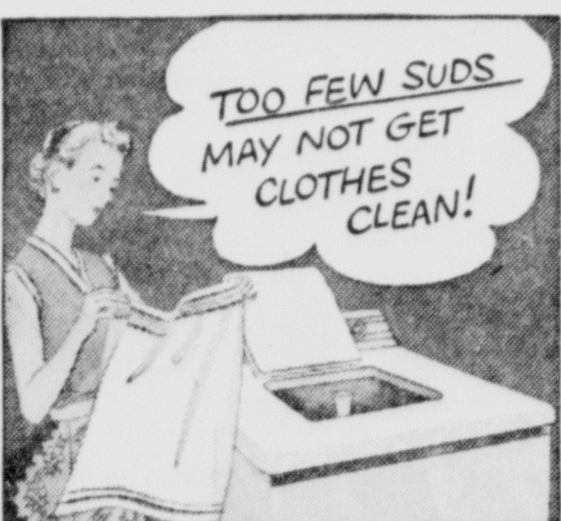

It's Colgate's amazing new detergent AD—with just-right suds. Cup-for-cup, AD's cleaning and whitening ingredients combine to outwash any other product in your automatic washer.

AD is guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other detergent known. And it lets your machine work better and last longer, too!

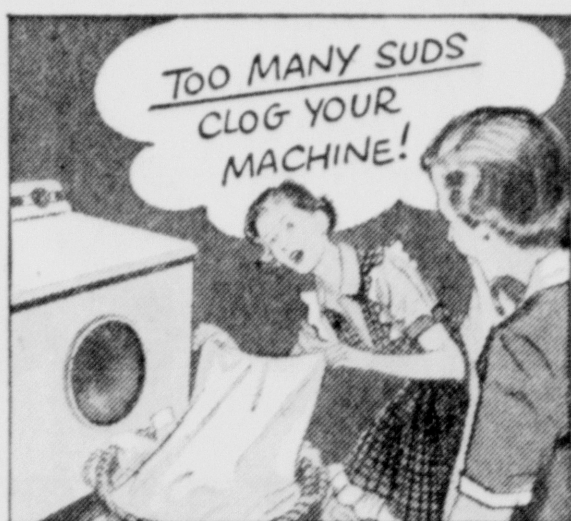

Here's why: AD gives you just the right amount of suds. Not too few. Not too many. But just-right suds for your machine and for perfect washing results.

So try AD today. It upsets all previous recommendations for automatic washers. And it's guaranteed to outwash any low-suds or regular detergent known.

If you don't agree that AD outwashes any other detergent in any automatic machine, we'll refund your money. Mail boxtop to: Colgate-Palmolive Co., Dept. C, P. O. Box 444, Jersey City 3, N. J.

Non-sudsing detergents fail to show proper amount of detergent to use. They may leave clothes looking grey and streaky, many housewives feel. AD, with just-right suds, gives you the cleanest, whitest wash ever!

Regular detergents produce so many suds they may cause "suds lock" ... clog your machine ... strain its motor ... run up extra power and repair bills for you. AD, with just-right suds, lets your machine work smoothly and properly.

AD—with just-right suds—gives you the cleanest and whitest wash you've ever seen. And AD lets your machine work freely and easily, too. For your wash and your washer, try AD. It's better—automatically!

Today try AD — to wash clothes really clean, in any type of washing machine!

A Word About Better Breakfasts

Nutrition authorities say that school children could and should eat better breakfasts than they do. The best-fed member of the family is baby. The most underfed are the teen-agers, followed by the working girls—and quite a few weight-bearing adults. All agree that no breakfast or an inadequate breakfast is the greatest contribution to poor diet. A good breakfast means a "Good Morning."

U. S. Cookbook Good German Seller

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
AP Newsfeatures
DARMSTADT, Germany — German cookbooks are being imported from America for U. S. Army garrisons in Germany. They are selling like hot potato pancakes, almost.

If that seems like carrying coals to Newcastle, the reason is that the books are printed in English.

With one of them handy, an ambitious army housewife can match her German neighbor in whipping up a dish of Huhn im Topf or Sauerkraut mit Kartoffel Klesse.

A steady seller on Stars and Stripes newsstands is "Luchow's German Cookbook" by Jan Mitchell, proprietor of a New York restaurant.

Since the book was put on sale on 300 newsstands at American post exchanges and snack bars in Germany, about 1,300 copies have been sold.

Campbell Townsend, Stars and Stripes book department supervisor, lists it as a "pretty good seller," which has outsold another book on German cooking.

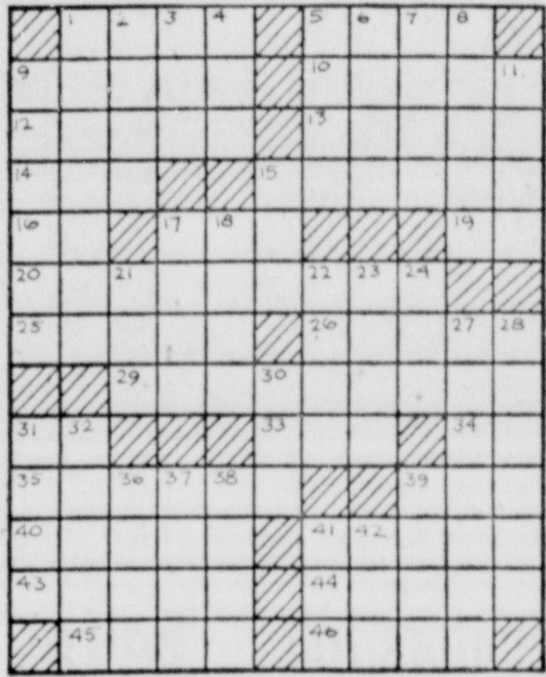

German housewives who looked through the book agree that the dishes are authentic enough but claim that some of the recipes have been Americanized.

"We use different spices here," said one Frankfurt hausfrau. "For one thing we don't use nutmeg. Then, too, chicken fat is seldom used in German cooking. We prefer butter and bacon fat."

"I really don't believe it was necessary to send to the States for a book on German cooking," she added. "It seems it would have been easier to translate German cook books here."

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Rainbow Ribbon Loaf Dessert

Three delicious flavors, mint, pineapple-pecan and strawberry make up this three-layer dessert loaf. You'll love serving such a lovely looking and colorful dessert. You may even wish to use this dessert idea and substitute one of your more favorite flavors for any of the layers in the recipe. This "party fancy" dessert is very low in cost and quite easy to prepare.

INGREDIENTS:

2½ cups water; 1 tall can (14½ ounces) evaporated milk; 1 cup uncooked white rice; 3 teaspoons vanilla; ¼ cup beet or cane sugar; ½ cup toasted chopped pecans; ½ cup crushed pineapple, drained; ¼ cup beet or cane sugar; mint flavoring; green food coloring; ½ cup strawberry (or raspberry) jam or preserves.

METHOD: Put the water, evaporated milk and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Stir well. Place the saucepan over a medium heat. Stir several times. When bubbles appear around the edge, turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid. Leave over this low heat 45 minutes or until the milk cooks into the rice. Stir several times during the cooking. During the last 5 or 10 minutes of the cooking time, stir frequently. Stir in the vanilla. Divide the rice mixture into three equal portions, placing each portion in a mixing bowl. (You may use the saucepan to hold one portion.) Stir ¼ cup beet or cane sugar, the pecans and pineapple into one portion. Into another portion, stir in ¼ cup beet or cane sugar, mint flavoring (until the desired flavor is produced) and green food coloring (until the desired shade of green is produced.) Stir the strawberry jam or raspberry jam into the third portion of rice.

Thoroughly grease a 9" x 5" x 2½" loaf pan. Place the strawberry flavored portion in the bottom of the loaf pan. Pack firmly with spoon. Top the strawberry layer with the mint flavored layer. Top the mint flavored layer with the pineapple-pecan layer.

Allow to cool, then cover and chill in the refrigerator until time to serve. Allow to chill about 4 hours.

To serve, run a knife around the edge of the loaf pan. Place a plate or platter over the loaf pan. Invert the platter and pan together. Lift loaf pan from the platter. It may be necessary to set the loaf pan in hot water for a second in order to unmold the loaf easily. Garnish the loaf with whole pecans or maraschino cherries. If desired, serve with whipped cream. This recipe makes 10 servings.

For more milk value in foods, add whole or nonfat dry milk to the fluid milk used in soups, mashed potatoes, cereals and beverages. One half cup of dry milk added to a pint of fluid milk makes the food twice as rich in milk value as it is when fluid milk alone is used.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8 (INS)—A dream of Sam Goldwin Jr.'s will be realized when he brings "Proud Rebel" to the screen. As long ago as 1950, when Sammy was going overseas to be part of NATO, he read the story, which his father had bought and which was then called "The Journal of Linett Moore," by James Edward Grant.

So five years later, Junior has changed the title to "Proud Rebel" and turned it over to James Peacock to develop.

The reason Gary Cooper missed his plane to Chino, Calif., on location for "Mr. Birdwell Goes to Battle" was that he was talking to Billy Wilder about doing "Adriana" opposite Audrey Hepburn.

When Big Coop finishes "Mr. Birdwell," which he is making for William Wyler, he'll get the co-starring plum with Hepburn. With Billy Wilder directing and producing, this one is as good as a hit already.

Greg Peck with John Huston descended upon me, and I haven't had as many laughs in years. We started out on an interview, and it lasted three hours; not a minute of the time I was bored.

John says he plans to make a picture in Nepal.

One lawsuit which Rita Hayworth won't have to worry about is for the custody of Princess Yasmine. The child's father, Aly Khan, has agreed to appeal to the French courts when they resume the middle of the month to give Rita what the French call an "executor clause" in her original agreement with Aly.

By this clause, Rita can be reasonably sure that little Yasmine will not be kept in France or in the Moslem countries and never returned to her.

In the original agreement, Rita was supposed to deliver Yasmine to her father and grandfather, the Aga Khan in July. That was the reason for her breakup with Columbia. She feared her picture would not be finished in time.

More about Rita: Those close to the Hayworth-Dick Haymes rift believe it's only a matter of days before Rita returns to their Malibu home, where Dick is now living — and hoping.

He has talked to her once and believes after she rests awhile she will come back. He goes directly home from the Coconut Grove each night, hoping to find her waiting.

Dick has been very silent, except when Jerry Lewis, usually a comic, handed him a medal and said, "Here, wear this. It's lucky. Patty (Mrs. Lewis) gave it to me when I needed it badly, and it will bring you luck as it did me." Jerry was dead serious and meant every word he said.

Looking not a day over 16-years-old, Gloria DeHaven was on the Paramount lot all day Tuesday, showing off the studio to her Florida boyfriend Dick Fincher — and vice versa.

Don't sell this romance short. Ever since she met the handsome automobile dealer in Florida seven months ago, Gloria and Fincher have had eyes only for each other.

Snaps: Orson Welles and his wife will add to the population of Italy in about seven months.

Ted Stauffer, ex-husband of Hedy Lamarr, had luncheon with Lex Barker at U-I and said his wife recently lost her baby. Mrs. Stauffer is the former New York socialite Ann Brown.

Lucille and Desi having an early dinner at Chasen's the same night I was there with my family. They both look well, and the only table hopping Desi did was to talk to Ronald Reagan and his attractive Nancy, who were dining with the Lew Wassermans.

Drives Blind For A Living

A lot of drivers might seem to be flying blind, but people who attend the stock car races tonight at Deep Creek Lake Speedway at McHenry will see a woman who makes a living at it.

Lady Rhoda, as she's called, puts baking dough over her eyes, follows with surgical cotton and bandages, then tops the whole works with linen dish towels and drives away, around an obstacle course.

She always borrows the car, usually a convertible, to show there's no gimmick involved. She can even read with the blindfold on. The secret? Magic, she says.

The driving stunt is the latest in Lady Rhoda's repertoire. For the past few seasons she's been doing blindfold reading tricks on stage and TV.

Tonight's performance is set for 8 p. m.

mean — with Perry Como on his TV show.

Was that a secret engagement party that Jon Hall and Linda Dawson hosted for 16 friends at the Coconut Grove?

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Area 100F Lodge Will Confer Degree

Chosen Friends Lodge 34, 100F, will meet today at 7 p. m. at the Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, at which time degree work will be conferred on a class of candidates by a degree staff from Philos Lodge 91 of Westernport.

Mt. Carmel Encampment 7, 100F, of Westernport, will entertain Grand Patriarch Harry Hilton of Baltimore, and his staff, on an official visitation to Western Maryland encampments, Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Cumberland Encampment 23 and A. T. White Encampment 47, Mt. Lake Park, have been invited to the Westernport program, which will mark the grand patriarch's first official visit to this section this year.

Truck To Collect Relief Materials

A truck from the Church World Service Center at New Windsor will be here Monday to pick up materials for overseas relief. The collections are made quarterly and include clothing, food and used fats which can be utilized for making soap.

After the materials are processed at the New Windsor center, they are shipped to Europe, Korea and other areas where need exists.

The local collection sites are the Living Stone Church of the Brethren and First Presbyterian Church. Items may be left at either location between now and Monday.

Programs On Sale

A sale of souvenir programs and historical record of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial will start today at all newsstands, according to Col. F. Edgerton Powell, general chairman of the bicentennial.

Powell said the booklets will be reduced in price to 50 cents a copy for this "last-chance" sale.

There is only a limited supply left and Col. Powell advised early purchase of them. He commented that every home library should contain this historical record and added they will become more valuable as time goes on.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8 (INS)—A dream of Sam Goldwin Jr.'s will be realized when he brings "Proud Rebel" to the screen. As long ago as 1950, when Sammy was going overseas to be part of NATO, he read the story, which his father had bought and which was then called "The Journal of Linnet Moore," by James Edward Grant.

So five years later, Junior has changed the title to "Proud Rebel" and turned it over to James Pe-tracci to develop.

The reason Gary Cooper missed his plane to Chino, Calif., on location for "Mr. Birdwell Goes To Battle" was that he was talking to Billy Wilder about doing "Adriana" opposite Audrey Hepburn.

When Big Coop finishes "Mr. Birdwell," which he is making for William Wyler, he'll get the co-starring plum with Hepburn. With Billy Wilder directing and producing, this one is as good as a hit already.

Greg Peck with John Huston descended upon me, and I haven't had as many laughs in years. We started out on an interview, and it lasted three hours; not a minute of the time I was bored.

John says he plans to make a picture in Nepal.

One lawsuit which Rita Hayworth won't have to worry about is for the custody of Princess Yasmine. The child's father, Aly Khan, has agreed to appeal to the French courts when they resume the middle of the month to give Rita what the French call an "exocuter clause" in her original agreement with Aly.

By this clause, Rita can be reasonably sure that little Yasmine will not be kept in France or in the Moslem countries and never returned to her.

In the original agreement, Rita was supposed to deliver Yasmine to her father and grandfather, the Aga Khan in July. That was the reason for her breakup with Columbia. She feared her picture would not be finished in time.

More about Rita: Those close to the Hayworth-Dick Haymes rift believe it's only a matter of days before Rita returns to their Malibu home, where Dick is now living — and hoping.

He has talked to her once and believes after she rests awhile she will come back. He goes directly home from the Coconut Grove each night, hoping to find her waiting.

Dick has been very silent, except when Jerry Lewis, usually a comic, handed him a medal and said, "Here, wear this. It's lucky. Patty (Mrs. Lewis) gave it to me when I needed it badly, and it will bring you luck as it did me." Jerry was dead serious and meant every word he said.

Looking not a day over 16-years-old, Gloria DeHaven was on the Paramount lot all day Tuesday, showing off the studio to her Florida boyfriend Dick Fincher — and vice versa.

Don't sell this romance short. Ever since she met the handsome automobile dealer in Florida seven months ago, Gloria and Fincher have had eyes only for each other.

Snap: Orson Welles and his wife will add to the population of Italy in about seven months.

Ted Stauffer, ex-husband of Hedy Lamarr, had luncheon with Lex Barker at U-I and said his wife recently lost her baby. Mrs. Stauffer is the former New York socialite Ann Brown.

Lucille and Desi having an early dinner at Chasen's the same night I was there with my family. They both look well, and the only table hopping Desi did was to talk to Ronald Reagan and his attractive Nancy, who were dining with the Lew Wassermans.

Rhonda Fleming, having finished "The Killer Is Loose," takes off for Atlantic City, but not for long. She's booked to sing — and sing I

LADY RHODA

Drives Blind For A Living

A lot of drivers might seem to be flying blind, but people who attend the stock car races tonight at Deep Creek Lake Speedway at McHenry will see a woman who makes a living at it.

Lady Rhoda, as she's called, puts baking dough over her eyes, follows with surgical cotton and bandages, then tops the whole works with linen dish towels and drives away, around an obstacle course.

She always borrows the car, usually a convertible, to show there's no gimmick involved. She can even read with her blindfold on. The secret? Magic, she says. The driving stunt is the latest in Lady Rhoda's repertoire. For the past few seasons she's been doing blindfold reading tricks on stage and TV.

Tonight's performance is set for 8 p. m.

Was that a secret engagement party that Jon Hall and Linda Dawson hosted for 16 friends at the Coconut Grove?

That's all today. See you to-morrow.

Truck To Collect Relief Materials

A truck from the Church World Service Center at New Windsor will be here Monday to pick up materials for overseas relief. The collections are made quarterly and include clothing, food and used fats which can be utilized for making soap.

After the materials are processed at the New Windsor center, they are shipped to Europe, Korea and other areas where need exists.

The local collection sites are the Living Stone Church of the Brethren and First Presbyterian Church. Items may be left at either location between now and Monday.

Programs On Sale

A sale of souvenir programs and historical record of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial will start today at all newsstands, according to Col. F. Edgerton Powell, general chairman of the bicentennial.

Powell said the booklets will be reduced in price to 50 cents a copy for this "last-chance" sale. There is only a limited supply left and Col. Powell advised early purchase of them. He commented that every home library should contain this historical record and added they will become more valuable as time goes on.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

The Early Days

The early history of radio, some entertaining fragments of which are currently appearing in American Heritage magazine, is largely the handiwork of those of us who listened to it rather than those who participated. You can't discount the work of the early pioneers of radio but, in a very real sense, it was the listeners who shaped and guided and, from the very earliest beginnings, were surprisingly active in their support and enthusiasm for this miraculous new medium.

Reminiscing about the earliest days of radio, the dean of radio commentators, H. V. Kaltenborn, confesses: "It was the listeners who converted me. The mail began to come in and that told the story. A tremendous variety of people—a true cross section of the population—was listening. But after a few months the response changed character. At first, it was only the fact that they heard you that listeners reported. What you said was relatively unimportant. The phrase 'your voice came into my living room as clear as a bell' occurred in hundreds of letters. That was the miracle, the marvel, that you could actually be heard. It was only later that listeners began to comment on what I said and not on the fact that they heard what I said."

In the light of the deluge that followed, some of the early anecdotes are pretty amusing. William S. Hedges, now vice president of NBC, relates how, as a young reporter on The Chicago Daily News, he was asked to compose a radio section for the paper. "Does this interfere with my regular assignments?" asked Hedges. "No," said the editor. "You can do this new column in the afternoons. However, this may not last long. It may be just another fad like mah jong."

Another pioneer, Thomas H. Cowan, reveals that his old boss, Thomas A. Edison, had a sign on his door saying "I will not talk radio to anyone." Edison, Cowan reveals, always felt a bit chagrined that he let Lee de Forest beat him to the invention of the grid. (In his biography, Edison stated that he was only a step away from de Forest's invention and he could never quite understand why it didn't occur to him.)

At any rate, not having invented radio, Edison was never very cooperative about it, even ordering Cowan to take his phonograph off the air because he didn't think it was doing the phonograph business any good. (Transmission was pretty bad then.) However, Cowan did wheedle the great man in front of a microphone once. "Now we have the opportunity of presenting the great and only Thomas A. Edison," said Cowan into the mike. "Will you say a few words, Mr. Edison?"

Mr. Edison said: "Good night." A few words was all he was asked for and a few words was all they got.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband Ben Kaefler who died one year ago September 9, 1954.
The pains of death are past,
And life's long warfare closed at last.
His soul is found in peace,
Sadly missed by his wife,
Mary Kaefler.

Couple Arrested For Abandoning Small Children

Tots Are Found In Parked Car

A Flintstone woman and a male companion, accused of abandoning four of her children—including a three-month-old son—on Bean's Cove Road across the Pennsylvania state line, were taken into custody at about noon yesterday and are being held in Allegany County Jail for action of Juvenile Court.

They are Clara Fogle and Ben Imes, who according to State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, had been living together for some time and were on parole from Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Maryland Police were called about midnight yesterday by Pennsylvania police who had been notified of the children in the car on the seldom used road. Trooper Lindbergh Cook drove to the scene and took the children to LaVale Barracks.

Taken To Hospital

The baby was taken to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, by authorities, while the three other children, ranging in age from seven to 10 years, were taken to the juvenile detention quarters at the County Infirmary.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said the mother of the children called Maryland State Police and wanted to know where the car and children were.

State Police told her to go to the State's Attorney's office and inquire. About noon yesterday the mother walked into the office seeking her children and the car.

A warrant had been issued for her arrest and so authorities took her into custody and sent her to County Jail. Last night about 8:10 p. m. Imes was taken to County Jail by Lilya who picked him up near an East Side home.

Lilya added that Imes had been at the residence and was nabbed when he left the home. He pointed out that Imes apparently had plans of "hiding out" for awhile.

Car Broke Down

The abandonment story pieced together by the eldest of the children was that they were on their way to Pennsylvania when the fuel pump of the automobile broke.

An older brother, 14, was sent for assistance. Hours later he had failed to return. Then the adults left, ostensibly for help.

Lilya said that warrants had been issued within the past few days for their arrest in connection with violation of paroles of the Juvenile Court.

The three other children were still in the detention quarters of the Infirmary last night and will probably be taken to foster homes, according to authorities.

AP Editor's Wife Succumbs

LINTHICUM HEIGHTS, Md., Sept. 8 (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Lovell Warren, former Associated Press Editor and wife of Huel E. Warren Jr., day news editor of the Baltimore AP Bureau, died unexpectedly at her home today. She was 38.

A neighbor found her unconscious on the floor of her home here and called a doctor who pronounced her dead. Dr. Gustave Faubert, Anne Arundel County medical examiner, said a preliminary examination indicated she suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Warren, a native of Gibson City, Ill., was born on Christmas Day, 1916, the daughter of Dr. Frank Blair Lovell and Mrs. Helen Brewster Lovell. Her father died a year later in the flu epidemic of 1917. Mrs. Lovell resided at nearby Crownsville, until her death last May.

Mrs. Warren received her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan in 1938, having started her journalism career there as reporter and night editor on The Michigan Daily.

She joined the Annapolis Evening Capital in 1939 and was society editor and city editor until November, 1942, when she entered the Associated Press in Baltimore.

She was night filing editor in the Baltimore Bureau until she resigned in November 1947, to marry Warren. She returned to the AP briefly in 1950.

Surviving in addition to her husband are three children, Huel, 7, Christopher, 4, and Helen, 10 months.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Baptist Churches Plan Study Course

First Baptist Church and LaVale Baptist Church will participate in a joint study course of Dr. J. N. Barnett's book, "The Church Using Its Sunday School," beginning September 19 and running through September 23.

This special study is a part of Preparation Week being observed in the Sunday schools throughout the Southern Baptist territory at the beginning of the new Sunday school calendar year, October 2. Classes will be taught at LaVale Church, National Highway, Allegany Grove, beginning each evening at 7 p. m. and closing at 9 p. m. All teachers and officers of each age group are invited to attend.

Abandoned Child

This chubby little three-year-old boy was among four children of a Flintstone woman who were found abandoned about midnight yesterday on the Bean's Cove Road across the Pennsylvania state line. The child is being held by Miss Mary Howie, superintendent at Miners Hospital, Frostburg, where he was taken by Maryland State Police who said he had been in the car about 12 hours. Mother of the child and the other three children, according to police, is Clara Fogle. A male companion, Ben Imes, and the mother were taken into custody yesterday and are being held in Allegany County Jail for violation of parole.

LaVale Woman Will Head Tuberculosis Association

Liberty Trust Cleaning Job Is Under Way

The exterior of the Liberty Trust Building, corner of Baltimore and Centre streets, is going to get a "face lifting."

Charles A. Piper, president of the bank, yesterday said the work is being done by a Pittsburgh concern. Workmen yesterday placed the scaffold along the top section of the building on the Pershing Street side.

The stone will be sand blasted, while the brick will be washed down with a chemical solution. The work is expected to be completed in about five or six weeks.

Booklet Lists Liquor Laws

Holders of liquor licenses in Allegany County can no longer avoid successfully that they did not "know the law."

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners has prepared a 34-page booklet which includes all of the alcoholic beverages laws applicable to Allegany County as well as the board's rules and regulations.

Purpose of the booklet is explained briefly in the preface. There it is stated that the booklet has been prepared as a service to license holders and for their convenience.

"The board requests the cooperation of all licensees in obeying and enforcing these laws and the rules and regulations, both in the public interest and in the interests of their business."

Members of the board are Walter C. Capper, chairman; Stanley O. Hamilton and Howard W. Vandegrift.

Copies of the booklet have gone to all license holders, attorneys and to Sheriff Edward R. Muir and his deputies.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon G. Rhodes announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday at the Lewis Gale Hospital in Roanoke, Va. The mother is the former Miss Delores Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Perry, Ridgeley.

Moving Day Is Sad One, With Intent To House Burns

Moving day had a sad ending for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith and their eight young children when fire destroyed the two-room frame dwelling on Big Ridge into which they had just moved.

Lost with their dwelling were virtually all of their possessions, according to District Forester William H. Johnson. Big Ridge is situated north of U. S. Route 40 between Polish and Green Ridge Mountains.

The Smiths had hardly finished moving into the two-room house which belongs to Dewey Lytle when Mrs. Smith built a fire in a wood stove to heat some water. The fire apparently set the roof ablaze.

Howard Robinette, who lives on Route 40 nearby, noticed the smoke and called Ralph Witt, superintendent of Green Ridge State Forest, believing it was a woods fire. When Witt and Robinette reached the scene the house was enveloped in flames and they were unable to save anything. They did suppress a brush fire started by the flames.

Smith was at the home of his father, Webb Smith, who also lives along Route 40, when the fire occurred. Witt took the family to Webb Smith's home where they were lodged overnight.

New Course Is Scheduled For Adult Classes

A 12-week work simplification course will be offered this year at Fort Hill High School as a part of the adult education program, according to J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in the Allegany County public schools.

The new course will be taught by Ellis B. Wisler, who is on the industrial engineering staff at the Amcelle plant of Celanese. His background includes considerable experience both as a teacher and as an industrial engineer.

It is expected that the class will start on or about September 27 and will be conducted once weekly for 12 weeks.

Briefly, the course is designed to show the nature of the thinking, the systematic analysis, the process charting and other numerous techniques necessary to develop effective working methods and increase productivity in clerical, distributive, manufacturing and service organizations, by identifying and eliminating the uneconomic employment of time, equipment, materials, space and human effort.

Wisler believes the course will lead to greater employee satisfaction on the job and will serve as a tool to better living. It will be a non-technical course utilizing principles and procedures recognized and employed by existing authorities.

Interested persons "with a high school education, work experience and common sense" are invited to enroll in the course. It should interest those employed in industry, working for public utilities, in stores and other lines of work, according to Wisler.

A graduate of Shippensburg (Pa.) State Teachers College, Wisler had one year of public school teaching before obtaining employment in industry. He later studied at the Illinois Institute of Technology and the Chicago Technical College and taught at the institute and at the University of Illinois.

Wisler also has taken a number of company training courses in industrial engineering. During the Korean War he was on the work simplification committee at the Fairchild aircraft plant in Hagerstown. He has been with Amcelle since 1953.

The teacher is a member of the Cumberland Engineering Club, the Society for the Advancement of Management of New York City and the Industrial Management Society of Chicago.

Co. Investigator, Classmate, Renew Acquaintances

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya yesterday afternoon renewed acquaintances with a former classmate with whom he attended classes in the old Union Street School. They recalled old times in the former classroom which Lilya now occupies as his office.

Major Leo Morrissey, former resident who operated a radio shop here, saw Lilya's name on the front window of the office, walked into the building and greeted the investigator.

This is the first time in about five years that Lilya talked with Major Morrissey, who recently returned after three years overseas. The major entered the service at the outset of World War II and since then has been at various stations throughout the world working on communication setups for the Army.

Fadley Charged With Intent To Kill Woman

Faces Grand Jury Action In Stabbing

Ralph L. Fadley, 35, of 1414 River Avenue, who was arrested by City Police Tuesday night has been charged with assault with intent to kill in the stabbing of Mrs. Dorothy Rockwell, 33, of 17 Fifth Street.

He was taken to Allegany County Jail yesterday following questioning in the State's Attorney's office yesterday morning.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said that after a statement was taken from the prisoner, a warrant was sworn out and Fadley was taken to County Jail.

Two other witnesses in the stabbing are expected to be questioned in a day or two, Lilya added, and Fadley will be given a hearing for the purpose of setting bond.

According to the statement taken by Lilya, Fadley said he had been drinking and had no reason for stabbing Mrs. Rockwell.

The couple reportedly had no "words" that night at the Fadley home and the stabbing came as a complete surprise.

He will be held for action of the October term of the grand jury, Lilya added.

Meanwhile the victim of the stabbing is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted following the incident which occurred at the home of Fadley's mother.

Mrs. Rockwell was stabbed in the back under her right ribs. After the stabbing Mrs. Rockwell left the Fadley house and walked toward 1418 River Avenue where she collapsed on the front porch.

Fadley was apprehended by City Police and Mrs. Rockwell was rushed to the hospital. Police found a small penknife under a china closet in the room where the stabbing took place.
